Seaplane With Byrd Expedition Reported Missing

Navy Announces Plane With Seven Aboard Overdue On Antarctic Flight

LAST REPORT FROM PLANE, DECEMBER 30 (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Navy announced today that a PBM Mariner seaplane carrying seven men attached to the Byrd expedition is missing in the Antarctic.

The announcement said that the plane "is overdue on an exploratory flight on which it departed from the seaplane tender USS Pine Island at 5:45 a.m. (EST) Dec. 30, 1946."

The plane was scheduled to return at 3:45 p.m. (EST) the same day. The navy said that it had sufficient fuel for 11 additional hours of flight.

Last Report December 30

The last report from the plane attached to the Antarctic expedition under Vice Admiral Richard E. Byrd was received at 7:25 a.m. (EST) December 30.

At that time its position was latitude 71°22' south, longitude 99°30' west, about 250 miles to the south of the USS Pine Island.

The navy said that previous flights had reported open water in that area.

Pilot aboard the plane with the next of kin were:

John H. Caldwell, wife, Mrs. Dorothy G. Caldwell, 1329 Bolling Ave., N.W., (l.g.) William H. Kearns, Jr., father; William H. Kearns, Sr., 181 Commonwealth Ave.; Bobbie Marie, L.J. (g.) Ralph Paul Leblanc, parents; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leblanc, Route 1, Box 91, St. Martinville, La.

Ensign Maxwell A. Lopez, parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maximo Lopez, 492 Spring St., Newport, R.I.

New Earthquake Shock In Tokyo (BULLETIN)

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Reuters reported from Tokyo that the Japanese capital today quivered under a heavier than usual earthquake.

It was not known immediately whether this was a new upheaval or a regular aftermath to the recent earthquake which set off tidal waves that took several hundred lives.

Final Mid-Year Commencement On January 21

Dr. R. F. Galbreath Bacalaureate Speaker—Dr. S. C. Gamble To Speak At Graduation

With the graduation of 150 seniors of the New Castle high school on January 21, the mid-year commencement will disappear from the New Castle public school system.

Inaugurated in January, 1928, the first mid-year exercises were for 21 boys and 33 girls, with 294 seniors graduating the following June.

Four hundred and fifty seniors will graduate in this year's June class.

Bacalaureate for the final mid-year class will be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Sunday evening, January 19, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath will preach the sermon and Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church will assist.

Dr. Samuel C. Gamble, a former New Castle minister, will deliver the commencement address in the Cathedral on Tuesday evening, January 21, at 8 o'clock.

Early Hearing On Baruch Plan Being Forecast

By PIERRE J. RUSS (L.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 3.—United Nations spokesmen predicted today that American efforts to get an immediate hearing in the security council on the Baruch veolous atomic control plan would be successful.

Advance indication are that in a show-down vote, a sufficient majority is assured among the 11-nation delegates to give first consideration to the United States resolution and push Russia's demand for immediate steps on universal disarmament into second place.

Five American Airmen Safe; Plane Is Lost

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Five American airmen were safe today after they abandoned their B-17 bomber in mid-air and pointed the plane out to sea.

The British air ministry announced that two of the crew members were rescued from the sea near the Shetland Islands.

They previously had allowed their three crewmates to parachute safely to the ground near Lerwick airfield when the Flying Fortress was unable to complete a flight from Iceland to Preswick, Scotland.

All five airmen were reported comparatively unharmed. They were treated for minor scratches.

The uninjured bomber was last seen flying across the Shetlands. Searchers who found no trace of the ship believe it crashed at sea.

The automatic pilot was set to carry it seaward when the last two members of the crew bailed out.

Johnstown Couple Killed By Gas

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Police today were investigating the deaths of an elderly Johnstown couple and their three pets, whose bodies were found in their gas-filled home.

Firemen found the bodies of George Littlefield, 70, and his wife, Mary, after neighbors, who had not seen the couple since Monday, reported seeing a dead squirrel through a kitchen window.

The gas was believed to have leaked through the house from a faulty heater in the basement.

In addition to the pet squirrel, two dogs also were asphyxiated.

COLUMBUS, O., Girl Believed To Be In Custody Of Former Convict

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—War Assets Administrator To Make Large Cut In Federal Forces

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Filing of a warrant for the release of a 42-year-old ex-convict with whom she was last seen spurred the 29-state search today for Mary Virginia Kimberly, daughter of an Ohio State university professor.

The suspicious person warrant was filed in suburban upper Darlington by the girl's father, Prof. E. E. Kimberly of the university's engineering department.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Search for Mary Virginia Kimberly, 20-year-old coed daughter of an Ohio State university professor, was spread over 29 states today.

Littlejohn said the reduction from the present peak of 58,000 employees will be done gradually between now and July 1. He pointed out that the plans are subject to revision due to changing conditions.

The former four-star general admitted that sales of war surplus aren't going as well as he had hoped, but he still is using Jan. 31, 1948, as his "target date" for closing down WAA. He expected to have some real estate still on his hands at that time, but he believes an old line agency could take it over.

Meanwhile, relatives of Robert Haine Hemming, 42, former convict with whom Miss Kimberly drove away from her home New Year's afternoon, reported the couple had been seen in Cleveland late yesterday.

Sara Hemming, daughter of the missing man and a close friend of Miss Kimberly, said a cousin phoned from Cleveland that Hemming had visited her about 6 p.m. yesterday.

Miss Hemming said the cousin told her Miss Kimberly remained in the automobile while Hemming (Continued on Page Two)

West Pittsburg Firemen Buy Site Purchase Of Building On Eighth Street For Fire Department Voted Last Night

WILL REMODEL IN NEAR FUTURE

Announcement was made today by the Taylor Township Fire Department, that action had been voted at a meeting of the department held Thursday evening in Diaz hall to acquire the James Ryot building on Eighth street, West Pittsburg, for use as a home for the township fire department.

The building is a two-story structure, and will house the fire equipment of the township in addition to serving as a meeting place.

Work of remodeling the structure to serve the needs of the department is expected to be started as soon as possible it was voted.

Five counts will be represented in the three day meeting, which starts with the registering of students from 41 schools, on Thursday, January 9 and ends with a concert Saturday evening, January 11. The five counties sending school representatives are Beaver, Butler, Clarion, Lawrence and Mercer.

Expect 205 Voices In Chorus Mr. Martin is expecting 205 voices in the chorus with Paul Brantigan, music director of Schenley High School, Pittsburgh, as guest conductor.

This year's chorus will probably be one of the largest sectional choruses to ever meet.

Representing Lawrence county will be eight schools. They are Bessemer, Ellwood City, Wampum, and Plain Grove.

During their stay, the young people will be housed in private homes in Bessemer and North Beaver township. They will be served meals by three churches in Bessemer.

In addition to the pet squirrel, two dogs also were asphyxiated.

cussion of further charges against the harried but still fiery Mississippian.

To Await Message

The two houses are expected to meet only briefly today and then adjourn to await President Truman's state of the union message due Monday.

The President has announced his determination to "get along" with a politically hostile Congress. His message is expected to contain the administration's formula for cooperation.

The GOP-controlled Congress is well aware that this session is the springboard from which the Republican effort to capture the presidency in 1948 must be launched.

Congress Lineup

Despite such discordant notes as that sounded by Sen. Reed (R) Kan., when he accused the Senate Republican leadership of favoritism in committee assignments, harmony has been largely achieved.

The statistical lineup in the new Congress is:

Senate—51 Republicans; 45 Democrats.

House—245 Republicans; 187 Democrats; one American Labor; two vacancies.

New faces will be plentiful in both houses.

In the Senate, there are 17 Republicans and six Democratic freshmen; in the House, there are 74 new Republicans and 29 new Democratic members.

entered the house. She stated they gave no indication of returning to Columbus although they had heard of the search for them.

Drove Away

Emerson E. Kimberly of Ohio State's engineering department informed police that his daughter drove away with Hemming when the latter asked her to help him plan a "surprise party" for his daughter Sara.

Hemming said he became alarmed when Mary Virginia did not return and discovered that no one at the Hemming home knew of any proposed party.

Kimberly said he was certain the case was plainly one of "abduction against her will" because Mary Virginia had seen Hemming only once or twice before.

Police records revealed Hemming had a long prison record dating back to 1927. He served terms at various times for passing bad checks, auto theft, burglary, grand larceny and forgery.

Hemming had been visiting his parents in suburban upper Arlington for about three weeks. Police asserted he told relatives he had been employed by a Hollywood movie studio but had been thrown out of work by jurisdictional strikes.

Miss Kimberly is a senior in the Commerce college at Ohio State.

WASHINGTON CALLING by MARQUIS CHILDS

Senator Bilbo's Case Tied Up With Politics

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The case of Theodore Bilbo is so tied up with the politics of the moment that the little man from Mississippi may become a member in good standing of the Senate of the United States. What is more, he may hold his seat through the term for which he was elected.

Looking at it in a perfectly cynical, hard-boiled way, the Republicans must certainly conclude that Bilbo is a greater asset to them in the Senate than out of it. He is a continuing advertisement of the worst side of the Democratic party.

But to evade the Bilbo issue for this reason will be to evade an important responsibility. There might, of course, be an argument for allowing him to take his seat in the first instance and then moving to expel him. That would certainly keep the issue of Bilboism before the public for weeks or even months. Some Republicans are making that argument.

Simplest Way

The simplest and most honest way, however, would be to move to refuse Bilbo his seat. That could be done by a majority vote, whereas it requires a two-thirds vote to expel "the man" once he is seated.

Convinced by his investigation into

Bilbo's finagling with war contractors of his unfitness for a seat in the Senate, Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan has had the forthrightness to say that the Republicans party should follow that course.

The question comes up immediately of how the southern senators would react to a move to keep Bilbo out. The obnoxious senator from Mississippi is not popular with his colleagues from the South. He rarely takes any part in the activities of the Senate except when he is up for election or when he can be voted for election or when he can keep the arch-demagogue.

Nevertheless, when the issue comes up for a vote, Bilbo is likely to get the support of most of the southern Democrats. Those who do not vote for him will stay away

when the roll is called.

Reaction Goes Deep

This reaction goes very deep. It is part of the defensive reaction of the old South standing solidly against the onslaught of the North. That was one reason—perhaps the most important reason—for Bilbo's re-election. He could raise the cry of northern persecution, and that always brings a uniform reaction, as instinctive as the kick of a frog's leg when an electric current is applied.

Changes are occurring rapidly in the South. A new leadership is coming into being. The new leaders have only contempt for Bilbo and for what he stands for. Yet they continue to give lip service to the outworn habits of the past.

This last is in itself enough to explain the behavior of those who would vote to seat "the man" while at the same time holding their noses. The talk of a filibuster, in the old-fashioned sense, seems to me to be empty. It looks like an excuse for those who would evade their clear duty.

Party Loyalty Factor

Certainly, if it goes to that point, there will be speeches in Bilbo's favor. Not merely southern loyalty, but party loyalty will work here. But that is something quite different from a filibuster.

The risk of a real filibuster, delaying the organization of the Senate for an indefinite time, is great. One of the few senators who might be inclined to talk against time is a Republican, Senator William Langer of South Dakota, whose own position in the Senate was in doubt.

The intention in any event is to recess until the President comes to Capitol Hill to read his message on the state of the Union. If southerners are of a mind to talk, they could doubtless exhaust themselves in that interval. And, "the man" himself will not be able to take part in any filibuster attempt, since he will not be a member of the Senate if the test comes on whether or not he shall be seated.

If there were doubts about the tight control of the Republican leadership, they should have been dispelled by the session that picked the slate of Senate officers previously agreed to. The so-called revolt was seen to be nothing but idle talk.

Senator Tobe and his objections were overridden with indifference.

The new Republican leadership can throw Bilbo out either before he takes his seat or afterward. If they fail to do so, for whatever reason, then the responsibility for that failure will be clearly theirs.

Bilbo may be a good billboard for the weaknesses in the Democratic party, but he is a bad advertisement in that interval. And, "the man" himself will not be able to take part in any filibuster attempt, since he will not be a member of the Senate if the test comes on whether or not he shall be seated.

Whether tax cuts, labor legislation or reduction in government spending shall take precedence in legislation to be enacted is not as important as it is that a thorough job be made when a bill is passed.

The Republicans are not, of course, immune to dissension. The new majorities are made up of men of different shades of opinion, although the differences are neither as bitter nor as acute as those which divide the Democrats of the conservative and radical wings. No congressional majority has ever will work in complete harmony and unison. But the spadework which Republican leaders have done holds the promise that Congress will get to work promptly and efficiently on its legislative chores.

Great Game Of Politics

Senator Taft Shows Political Courage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A GREAT deal is being said and written these days about courage in public life—some of it well founded and some of it not. In the current rush to pay homage to what the late Sir James Barrie called "the lovely virtue," curiously few seem to grasp what appears to be the most conspicuous case of political courage in our time—to wit, that exhibited by Senator Robert Taft, of Ohio.

IT IS not necessary to agree with Mr. Taft politically nor to approve either his votes or acts to concede that the kind of courage he has displayed in the last few months is so unusual in an aspirant for the presidency as to be almost nonexistent. Certainly, it is not matched by any of the other gentlemen, Republican or Democratic who have been mentioned in connection with our highest office.

TAKES first, the matter of the terminal pay bill, cited some months ago in this place. Here was a bill distributing somewhere between $2,500,000,000 and $4,000,000,000 among some 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 GI's of the recent war. From the moment it was introduced its passage was conceded. A similar payment had previously been made to officers. Clearly nobody in politics—and who wanted to stay in—could afford to vote against it. And in the House none did. Did anyone there raise his voice to point out the blow this bill would be to the hopes of restoring health to the Federal finances.

IT WENT through by an all but unanimous vote. Exactly one man refrained from voting—Representative James W. Wadsworth—who felt that after what had been done for the officers he could not as a matter of justice vote against the enlisted men. Refusing to dodge the vote, he answered "present" when his name was called. Then it went to the Senate, where the certainty of passage was even greater. Just before the final vote, Senator Taft arose and opposed the bill. He said it had been wrong in the first place to give this terminal pay to the officers, but it is not possible to correct one mistake by committing another; that the state of the nation's finances made it dangerous to do this, and that he would vote against it.

THIS he did—thus casting the only opposition vote in the entire Congress, though nine tenths of the members in both branches privately agreed with what he said. To appreciate the courage of this, one not only must grasp the overwhelming sentiment of millions of veterans for the oil, plus the presidential aspirations of Mr. Taft, but also the fact that there was not the least necessity for him to speak or vote against the bill; that there was not the slightest chance of his changing the result, that he easily might have dodged the vote with no criticism at all.

NOW, Mr. Taft has just performed another courageous act. With Republicans in control of the Senate, his seniority entitled him to the chairmanship of the powerful Finance Committee, normally regarded as the most important of all Senate committees. But Mr. Taft has relinquished his claim in order to take the chairmanship of the Labor Committee. If he had not done so, this post would go to the extremely pro-CIO Senator George Aiken, of Vermont, and the prospects of speedy and sound labor legislation would be greatly dimmed.

BY TAKING on this job, Mr. Taft has made himself responsible for whatever changes in existing labor laws are made at this session. He has grasped personally the most prickly and politically dangerous problem with which the new Congress will have to deal. The extremists on neither side are going to be satisfied with the final result. Both are sure to blame Mr. Taft. Already, the radical labor leaders have begun to denounce him. Thus, Senator Taft, without any compunction whatever, has assumed positions on two highly important matters, one of which involves the risk of alienating the "veteran vote" and the other involves the risk of alienating the "labor vote." He very easily could have avoided doing both without compromising his conscience. For example, he could have voted against the terminal pay bill without making a speech. And he could vote his convictions on labor changes without taking over the labor chairmanship and full responsibility. However, that isn't the way Mr. Taft operates. What he thinks, he says; what he is for supports with all he has. He may be right or he may be wrong, but certainly in politics he does practice the "lovely virtue" to anomalous extent.

THE practitioners of the "true liberalism" biss "Old Guardsman" "reactionary" and other epithetic names at him but none challenges his courage. What is the explanation? Is it that Senator Taft thinks that and that difficult to believe in face of the record that the American people are so fundamentally discerning that they are bound to recognize real character in a public man and reward it? Or is he so high-minded that he refuses to compromise his principles, even to the extent of remaining silent, in order not to offend the special groups? Perhaps, there are other explanations but no one has suggested them.

I don't know a thing about the Montoux affair in San Francisco. But I do know all about Montoux, and I know that the San Francisco people hold him in high esteem and are proud to have him as their orchestra leader.

Perhaps Mr. Montoux doesn't realize that the soloist's name has to be played up in larger letters because his name may not be as well known in San Francisco as his own.

Maybe, in San Francisco, even today, as in my days as a cub reporter, size of type is handed out instead of money.

Don't ever think that I don't like to see my name in print—the bigger the better.

But I have discovered that it isn't the size of your name, but the bigness of your performance, that counts, after all.

I myself, would rather have what I write find a place in your hearts than to see my name in 72-point type over a lot of superficial hypocrisy.

I hope Mr. Montoux will read this column.

Words Of Wisdom

I resent at any time or any place the attitude that the safety of this country depends on any man holding his job. No man has achieved that strength, and this country has not deteriorated to that point.

Lion Patrol And Richard Gangey
Win In Contest; Troop Leaders
To Camp For Three Days

On Thursday evening, members of Boy Scout Troop X-4 assembled in the social room of the Mahoning Methodist church. Assistant Scoutmaster Bill Weitz was in charge of the meeting.

Dale Gittings, John Finnin, Randall Smart and Archie Rotundo were invested into the troop, and received their tenderfoot badges. Keith Huff, Carl McConnell, Mike Augustine, Rudolph Roman, Dale Smart, and Richard Gangey received their second class badges. Awards were presented by Assistant Scoutmasters Weitz and Paul Reed.

Rudolph Roman, Keith Huff, and Bill Thayer passed first class judging. Carl McConnell passed judging tests and first class Morse code.

The troop contest, among the several patrols entered last evening, with the Lion patrol emerging the winner. Richard Gangey was the individual scout in first place; Carl McConnell was in second place. These two scouts have been running very close throughout the contest, which commenced two months ago. The awards will be announced later. Motion pictures of Japan, taken by Bill Weitz in natural colors, were shown by Bill.

Friday evening, January 10, is date of next meeting of the troop, in the church. This evening, the Green Bar Council of the troop will leave at five o'clock, for a three day camp at the Lawrence County Boy Scouts camp location at Rose Point.

Missionary Group
All Day Meeting

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the Mt. Jackson U. P. church had an all day meeting on Thursday, in the home of Mrs. Wylie Kennedy of Mt. Jackson road.

Sewing was done by the group, of articles for the Ezel mission school in Kentucky. Dinner was served at noon by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Richard Winger. Following another period of sewing, the topic of the day was discussed "India At The Threshold, The Key Of Fellowship, India And The Church"; Mrs. Sophia Salter and Mrs. Ransom W. Barris led in the discussion.

Mrs. J. Alvin was in charge of business session when it was planned to meet Thursday, February 6, with Mrs. Barris on Mt. Jackson road.

Ward School Stamps

To Air Views On Many Vital Issues At Cleveland Meeting

CLEVELAND, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The eyes of the world will turn to Cleveland January 9 when international leaders will address a forum of the Council on World Affairs.

Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia and Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine delegate to the United Nations General Assembly, were added today to the list of speakers which includes the cream of the diplomatic crop.

Another major American foreign policy spokesman was named on the list—Michigan's Republican Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, who will make his first speech on international affairs since the closing of the Foreign Ministers' Council in New York last month.

For three days, interest in the United Nations will be transplanted to the stages of Cleveland's music hall and public auditorium where world famous personages will air their views—with no punches drawn.

The program is jointly sponsored by the Council on World Affairs and Time magazine, whose editor-in-chief, Henry R. Luce, has been in Cleveland for the last several weeks completing the arrangements.

Byrnes To Speak

High on the list of speakers already announced are Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Prime Minister Alcide De Gasperi of Italy, Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, and Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese ambassador to the United States.

Other notables on the program will be Navy Secretary James Forrestal; Gen. Omar Bradley, head of the Veterans' Administration; Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state; Maurice Schumann, president of the French Popular Republican movement; E. N. Van Kleefens, Netherlands delegate to the United Nations Security Council; Rodriguez Lareta, foreign minister of Uruguay; Robin J. Cruikshank of England, director of the London Star and News Chronicle; Mildred H. MacAfee, president of Wellesley College; Paul Auer, Hungarian minister to France; Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of Union Theological seminary, and Ahmed Emid Yalman, of Istanbul, Turkey, editor of the liberal newspaper, Vatan.

Institute Theme

The theme of the institute will be "what do the nations expect of the United States?" and "What can we do about it?" Five sessions are scheduled, the first Thursday night, Jan. 9, and Friday and Saturday afternoons and nights.

Secretary Byrnes will speak Saturday night on the same program which includes Cardinal Spellman. The final session will be held in the public auditorium rather than the musical hall which has a much smaller seating capacity.

COURT BLAMES "HUBBY"

MILWAUKEE, Wis. Jan. 3.—(INS)—The "bad advice" of her husband got Mrs. Helen R. Sporer of Racine in trouble with OPA, but a sympathetic judge helped her out today.

U. S. Judge F. Ryan Duffy dismissed a 10-day jail sentence against

Mrs. Sporer—then raised a previous fine of $500 to $1,000.

She was convicted last week of failure to register an apartment house with OPA.

The judge commented that her troubles resulted from "bad advice" from her husband.

County Home Has New Year's Service

Residents of Lawrence county home enjoyed a New Year's eve service led by Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti, chaplain, in the home. After singing by the group, "The Stranger", a pageant, was given by young people of Christ Methodist church, of which Rev. Sulmonetti is pastor. Miss Emma Pearl assisted Mrs. F. P. Sulmonetti in directing the play.

Women of the chaplain's committee distributed candy bars to the residents and were taken through the home by Superintendent and Mrs. Ray Cutler.

Great Britain first laid claim to the West Indian Island of Barbados in 1605, when an English ship landed there.

Order New Search
For Missing Plane
With 32 Marines

Flier Reports Seeing Distress Signals In Snow Near La Grande, Ore.

LA GRANGE, Ore., Jan. 3.—(INS)— Skeptical army authorities posted orders today for further search near La Grande for the wreckage of a transport plane that disappeared three weeks ago with 42 marines on board.

Search of the area was begun yesterday on a civilian pilot's report that he saw "help" and "airplane" written in the snow miles west southwest of the La Grande airport.
An arrow pointed southward from the marks.

The scene, in eastern Oregon, is almost 250 miles east of the route the plane was following from San Diego to Seattle and at least 100 miles south of its last known location over Toledo, Wash.

Doubt Expressed

The army expressed doubt that the marks could have been made by survivors of the plane, which disappeared Dec. 10. Two army ships that scoured the area up to dark yesterday could not even find the writing.

The writing, tramped out in the snow, was seen twice by civilian fliers.

The fliers swooped low and saw tracks leading from the marks to a small shed on the edge of a meadow in the woods, but there was no other sign of life.

PARIS RETAILERS
SLASHING PRICES

PARIS, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Large department stores and food shops in Paris were responding in support of a new five-story annex to the Federal Reserve bank branch building in Pittsburgh, bank officials revealed.

A. G. Foster, cashier, said the project is still in a tentative stage and construction will not begin until building materials are plentiful and government restrictions are removed. Construction was not expected to begin until 1948.

The building will be located on a site adjoining the present building and will be connected to the present structure by tunnel. It will contain 100,000 square feet of office space and recreation and cafeteria facilities for employees.

According to reports, one of the persons who procured the gun, took it to the State police, and who, because it was a city case, turned the revolver over to the police force
after which Kennedy detained the young man who reportedly had previously had the revolver.

FIREMEN HOLD MAN SENDING FALSE ALARMS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)— Four false alarms within several hours from the same district were too much for Pittsburgh firemen last night.

When the northside fire trucks roared out of the station on their fourth fruitless call of the evening, the firemen took 63-year-old Charles Lewis into custody.

Bystanders pointed Lewis out to firemen as the man who had rung the alarm.

Disposal Of 'Gun'
Causes Detention

City police are holding for investigation a young man who was said to have disposed of a revolver to other parties last night, according to Police Chief Robert D.
Hanna. He said the police were interested in ascertaining why the party who disposed of the revolver had it in his possession. The young man was detained by Lieutenant G.
S. Kennedy and other officers, acting upon information received.

According to reports, one of the persons who procured the gun, took it to the State police, and who, because it was a city case, turned the revolver over to the police force
after which Kennedy detained the young man who reportedly had previously had the revolver.

Brands Career Of Nazi General

Erhard Milch's Acts Called Life Of Continual Betrayal By U. S. Prosecutor

NUERNBERG, Jan. 3.—(INS)— American Prosecutor Clark Denny on Thursday branded former Nazi Field Marshal Erhard Milch's career as nothing more than "life of personal and professional betrayal".

Denny demanded the death penalty for Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering's leading deputy on the grounds of Milch's participation in the Nazi slave-labor program.

Milch, who as commander-in-chief of the Luftwaffe planned the "blitz" on England, is standing trial for war crimes and also is accused of atrocities against allied airmen.

Milch, dressed in his Luftwaffe uniform which was stripped of all insignia, sat beside his counsel, taking notes as he heard himself branded one of the 14 highest Nazi authorities to enjoy Hitler's confidence.

Slave Labor Advocate

Calling Milch a "principal" in the Nazi slave labor program, Denny declared the former Luftwaffe commander was "as much concerned with employment of slave labor as any man in Germany."

The prosecutor added that Milch also was guilty of murder in planning of the program.

He charged the defendant was responsible for initiating the freezing tests on inmates of concentration camps and in ordering a two-month extension of high-altitude experiments which resulted in a considerable number of deaths.

Denny declared:

"Milch shed no tears for the victims."

Denny further described Milch as a man who boasted of the responsibility for hanging prisoners-of-war, and said that the defendant had urged that slave labor strike be met with rifle fire.

The war crimes court adjourned until Friday, after the prosecution asked time in which to prepare additional documents.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3.—(INS)— In a town where most people get kissed off, blonde Kristine Miller has just been kissed in.

The beauty from San Francisco, in Hollywood just six months, made her screen debut in the stalwart arms of Kirk Douglas.

Kristine found out she was only an amateur in the art of love-making, if movie makers can be regarded as experts.

"It's surprising how little you know," she said after a long afternoon spent in osculation for a scene in "I Walk Alone" for producer Hal Wallis. Up to then she'd merely regarded kissing as an act in which two people of opposite sex press their lips together as a means of expressing excessive fondness.

"In the movies it's got to be done just so," Kristine explained. "The first thing I found out was that sometimes my nose got in the way. In order to get the correct effect, you can't let your nose get in the way."

Her reporter learned that long ago, when he used to be in practice, having a proboscis second only to Durante's.

After about four dozen smooches, to use Kristine's own estimate, the experts were satisfied with the results.

Kristine was satisfied, too. "I saw the rough cut of the scene and it looked pretty good, I think," she said.

"Did you learn anything valuable about kissing from watching yourself?" your reporter inquired.

"Oh yes," said Kristine. "I think I did."

Kirk Douglas didn't seem to mind the overtime work.

Jeanette MacDonald got the best holiday break of anyone in town, now that she's busy with her first movie in four years, "The Birds and the Bees" at M-G-M.

Your reporter was chatting with her Monday afternoon when up walked Dolph Zimmer, one of the nice assistant directors in town.

"Jeanette," he said, "I've arranged it so you won't have to work tomorrow."

The towns included:

Indiana county: Aultman, Ernest, Fulton Run, Iselin, McIntyre, Coal Run, Lucerne, Lusiusboro, Tidewater and Waterman.

Armstrong county: Margaret, Nu-

Mine and Yatesboro.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY: Helvetia.

Cambria county: All company-owned houses in Twin Rocks.

Suit For $15,000,000 Filed Against Union

Damages Asked For Slowdowns And Admitted Refusal To Maintain Production'

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)— The first "answer" to a portal-to-portal pay suit was on file in federal court in Pittsburgh today, after the Rockwell Manufacturing company filed suit for $15,000,000 damages against an AFL union.

The meter and valve manufacturing company charged in its suit that the $15,000,000 represents money lost by slowdowns and admitted refusal to maintain production during the last eight years.

The union—Federation of Metal Workers, an affiliate of the AFL—United Auto Workers—filed suit against the company last week for $3,000,000 back pay and an equal amount in damages.

Company President W. F. Rockwell charged that "some of our employees, in spite of a written contract, have not worked an eight-hour day or a 40-hour week but have expected compensation for eight hours each day and 40 hours each week."

The suit includes only the company's home plant in Pittsburgh which employs 1700 persons.

Start Trial Of Army Veteran For Wife's Death

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)— Another juror and two alternates were slated to be picked today for the trial of army veteran Howard C. Brock on charges of slaying his wife with a commando knife.

A third panel of 150 prospects was summoned after the first two panels yielded only eight jurors.

Brock, 28, is accused of stabbing his wife, Mae, 28, seven times as she fled up Broad Street from him after he attempted to effect a reconciliation with her.

At the time of his arrest, detectives said Brock told them his mind snapped when he returned from three years army service to find his wife had rented their home and taken $5000 in joint savings.

Aged Man Held For Son's Death

EUREKA, Cal., Jan. 3.—(INS)— A 73-year-old father was held in jail today for the fatal shooting of his son, Herbert Hadley, 37, of San Francisco.

The father, Warren Hadley, surrendered to sheriff's deputies and admitted shooting his son with a 30-30 rifle, but said he did it in self-defense.

The younger Hadley owned the mountain ranch where the shooting occurred, 66 miles south of Eureka.

The father, caretaker of the ranch, said "a little argument" developed into a fight and his son struck him. He said he reached for the rifle and fired it "to protect myself."

To Test Radar Landing Device

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)— The Civil Aeronautics Administration announced that the latest development in radar landing devices will be given exhaustive test at the Pittsburgh airport.

The radar control, known as AN-GNP2, is a mobile supplement to the ground control approach system, also using radar.

The device to be tested in Pittsburgh's heavy smogs has been hailed as a major step forward in aviation safety. One operator guides the radar "eyes" in all types of weather to "pickup" planes in murky weather and bring them to safe landings.

The control will operate for a distance of 30 miles and up to an altitude of more than 10,000 feet. Similar devices were used to guide warplanes to sea landings in England during the war.

A corn plant uses about 368 pounds of water to produce one pound of dry matter.

PAINTING GIVEN
USS VALLEY FORGE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)— The aircraft carrier U. S. S. Valley Forge has been presented by the Continental Distilling company with an original painting depicting Washington's headquarters at Valley Forge.

The painting, by James R. Birmingham, will hang in the ward room of the great ship.

The presentation was made by Leo J. Gunson, president of the company, aboard the carrier.

Tractors Are Steadily Replacing Farm Horses

"Get a Horse" is gradually becoming an obsolete phrase with farmers of Lawrence county as well as on farms throughout the nation, statistics released today by L. C. Dayton, head of the local Agricultural Extension office, reveal.

In 1918 there were 27 million head of horses in United States as compared to 11½ million today. In the 1945 farm census, compiled as of January 1 of that year, it was revealed that 22 farms reported possession of 33 miles, a cut of nearly two-thirds of the number in the 1940 census. For horses (and this includes colts and ponies), 1232 farms reported 2972 horses, a drop of 500 head since 1940.

Chats with local farmers brought out the fact that the tractor is most assuredly replacing the horse. One old timer in North Beaver township declared that the tractor will never replace the horse, but he admitted that at threshing time it is nearly impossible to find teamsters to handle the horses.

Tractor power for binders, mowers, plowing, hauling and numerous small jobs on the farm is steadily pushing the horse out of his place on the average farm. Most teams on farms are used very little. They spend the time in the pasture, being used occasionally to haul manure or to rake hay into windrows.

Plowing with a horse, as expressed by one farmer, "is a real thrill, but we don't have time for such pleasures any more. We have to get our work done."

Prof. C. A. Bratton, extension economist at Cornell university, states that the cost of plowing an acre of land with horses amounts to $4.98 against $1.42 for doing the same work with a tractor.

Martin First GOP Speaker Of House In Past 17 Years

Massachusetts Representative Wins Post Unopposed In Closed Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Rep. Joseph Martin (R) Mass. today becomes the first Republican speaker of the house since 1930.

Martin won the unanimous support of his house Republican colleagues for the post at a closed conference. There were no opposition candidates.

He was conceded the coveted speakers' post from the moment that election returns of last Nov. 5 showed that Republicans had captured a majority of the seats in the house of representatives for the 80th congress, which convenes in its first session today.

Ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn (D) Tex. was selected to be Democratic minority leader in the house. The Democrats will go through the motions of nominating him for the speakers' post, but this is a mere formality.

The Republicans unanimously selected Rep. Charles Halleck (R) of Indiana to be their majority leader for the next two years.

Halleck was the only candidate placed in nomination for the job after three other opponents withdrew for reasons of party "harmony."

Rep. Woodruff (D) Mich. was elected chairman of the Republican house conference, and Rep. Case (R) S. D. was named secretary of this group.

Both Republicans and Democrats elected various individuals to house patronage jobs, including William F. Russell of Pennsylvania to be sergeant-at-arms.

Nanking Students In Demonstration Against Americans

NANKING, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Anti-American feeling among Nanking students flared anew today when more than 3,000 again marched into the American embassy.

The demonstration, in protest to the alleged rape of a Peiping student by two U. S. Marines, followed a similar one in Nanking yesterday.

In the latest outburst, the students swarmed into the embassy grounds and pasted and scribbled slogans on the embassy walls.

The slogans declared:

"Bloody beasts—go home. Don't wait until we kick you out."

The students demonstrated noisily outside the embassy shouting abuse to any American who showed himself. Inside, Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart received a delegation in the embassy reception room.

Governor Bell's Speech Is Brief

New State Chief Executive Says Everybody Wants "Something For Nothing" Now

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—John C. Bell declared Thursday upon assuming Pennsylvania's governorship that confusion and chaos in America had resulted from "selfishness, greed and lust for power".

In a short inauguration speech delivered during brief inaugural ceremonies, Bell said "Everybody wants special privileges, everybody wants more money and less work, everybody wants 'something for nothing'."

"We have lost touch with God," he declared. "We are following the surest road, the broad highway, to national disaster."

Today in our own Commonwealth, in our nation, and in the world, the times cry out for men and women of ideals and courage, who will forget selfishness, greed and regimentation and will rekindle the divine flame of freedom, which has inspired and ennobled men and women in every country where history is written of folk tales are told," he said.

"The despairing peoples of Europe and Asia, bewildered by the unsound and inept policies of a confused and vacillating administration in Washington, are turning to every form of policy of government—except Democracy. And even in America, many people are wondering whether our form of government and our free way of life can survive."

Bell lauded his predecessor, U. S. Senator-elect Edward Martin, and predicted he would "prove to be of inestimable value in these critical times".

Hoover Of FBI Warns Americans Of Red 'Termite'

Claims Communists "Boring In"; Influence Out Of Proportion To Membership

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, charged today that communism is boring its way through the United States "like a termite" and that its power and influence are out of proportion to its membership.

He declared, in a signed article in the February American magazine:

"The disastrous consequences of its advances, unless halted, will bring the same terror, oppression and tyranny that the forces of fascism would impose upon us. Both are ways of life that are alien to America..."

Hoover said "too often, liberty-loving Americans dismiss the menace of red fascism as inconsequential" and "judge its followers as a vocal group of malcontents attracting a lunatic fringe."

He added:

"They forget that communism is a cold, harsh and ruthless system which builds slowly but inexorably to the day when our democratic government will be superseded by a Godless, tyrannical, communistic dictatorship in the United States."

Communists, he asserted, are carrying on their "sinister and vicious program" behind a false front.

The FBI head disclosed that the communist party launched an intensive training program last fall for its 15,000 new members, using teachers that were especially selected and instructed in the basic principles of organization, agitation and propaganda.

Hope To Remove Stickpin In Lung Of Three-Year-Old

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Three-year-old Elizabeth Thomas of Opelika, Ala., today was a patient at Temple University hospital, in Philadelphia, where physicians hope to remove a stickpin from her lung.

Elizabeth has four army airmen to thank, who gambled their lives against zero weather conditions to fly her to a hospital where an operation may prevent pneumonia and other complications.

Alabama state police took the little girl to Atlanta, Ga., where army air forces chief General Carl A. Spaatz had agreed to have a C-47 transport ready for the flight.

First Lt. Edward O. Stillie of Richmond, Va., piloted the plane to the Quaker city. He said he had a ceiling of 150 feet and visibility of "less than half a mile".

Stillie's co-pilot was First Lt. Duane Tressler of Pittsburgh.

The Tasmanian wolf is striped like a tiger, has a tail like a rat, is a relative of opossums, and is not a wolf at all.

The Buenos Aires government seeks to establish sovereign rights in the South Polar region, claiming a large slice of territory directly south of the South American continent.

The proclamations were issued to clarify the duration of wartime legislation designed to fit emergency needs.

The State Justice Department has begun to sift approximately 80 emergency statutes to determine which will be affected by the president's action. Most of Pennsylvania's measures were predicted on the end of the war rather than hostilities, according to a spokesman.

Formal opinions were expected to be issued to all departments, bureaus and commissions within a fortnight.

Police were convinced that Rocco was the master-mind behind the shooting which was carried out unwittingly, police said, by Miss Pearl Lusk, 19. Miss Lusk said she had been employed by Rocco to trail Miss Trapani and take her picture with a special camera. The "camera" was a sawed off shot gun wrapped in a Christmas box and when Miss Lusk pulled the trigger to take a picture she shot Miss Trapani in the thigh.

At Roosevelt hospital, surgeons amputated the left leg of Miss Trapani in an effort to save her life.

Miss Lusk was held in jail as a material witness in default of $10,000 bail.

Police questioned a taxicab driver who was known to be a friend of Rocco but the driver said he had not seen Rocco in several months and had no knowledge of his whereabouts.

City Is Paid For Site For Plant

Check For $30,000 Is Received By City Council As City's Share Of Purchase

OTHER NEWS OF CITY HALL AFFAIRS

Council on Thursday received from Norman E. Clark, trustee for the city and county, a check from the Standard Steel Spring company for $30,000, one half of the purchase price on land occupied by that firm in the Eighth ward. The check was presented by Mr. Clark to City Controller W. A. Moore, who in turn delivered it to council.

Council authorized acceptance of the check and instructed City Clerk Jack Fritz to turn the check over to City Treasurer Bernard N. Hanson.

Mr. Clark was relieved of all responsibility as trustee in connection with the sale. The company took out a lease on the property some years ago and offered to pay $60,000 for the site if they desired to buy it.

Tuesday council instructed Mayor John F. Haven to execute a special warranty deed, fee simple, upon payment of the money.

Under the terms of the agreement the city will receive $30,000 and the county a similar amount.

Plan Generalized Sledding

When council met Thursday in city hall, the legal department was instructed to prepare an ordinance regulating motor traffic and sledding on certain streets in the city as follows:

Court street, Harbor to Sampson street.

Madison avenue, Second to LaFayette street.

Smithfield street, Borough Line to West Washington street.

Reynolds street, Cunningham to Pollock avenue.

Division street, Cunningham avenue to South Mill street.

Babson Makes Reply To Inquiries On Job

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1947, Publishers Financial Enterprise, Inc.)
BABSON PARK, Fla., Jan. 3.—
Many letters have come to me from young men and women all over the country asking where the best job opportunities will be found in the next few years.

Several hundred years B. C.
the Greek philosopher, Heraclitus, said: "There is nothing more permanent than change." His philosophy still holds good—especially in the world of work.
Planning a wise
vocational choice
is, in some ways, like duck hunting.
If you shoot where the bird is at any given moment, you may waste your ammunition. Job opportunities are always in more or less of a flux due to such factors as (1) wars,
(2) boom periods, (3) depressions,
(4) new inventions, (5) changes in people's wants and desires.

Probably the best way to predict the job opportunities of tomorrow is by looking at the trends of yesterday.
For example, according to the U. S. Bureau of Census, 33 out of every 100 gainfully employed in 1940 were in agricultural pursuits.
Today only 18 out of 100 are so employed. This casualty, for the most part, has been due to technological development. Thirty years from now small farms will be used only for inflation hedges or sustenance purposes. Food is destined to be grown on great farms as surely as shoes are made in great factories.

Professions Or Manufacturing?

Another illustration: professional workers such as lawyers, engineers, teachers and dentists increased from 4 per 100 in 1910 to 8 per 100 today. While opportunities for professional workers will continue to expand, it is the belief of experts that there will not be enough jobs for all of the young people who wish to enter these fields. My advice is, therefore, that unless you have a vital interest in and unusual aptitude for one of the professions, you had better consider other vocations where there will be greater opportunities.

Since 1920 manufacturing and mechanical industries have employed more workers than any other vocational groups. A figure of over 30 out of every 100 has been reached.
I visualize that during the next 30 years America and even eastern Europe and Asia, are headed for a trial of nearly completely mechanized civilization. Since then, the essentials of life will be taken care of by machine, the greatest vocational opportunities may be for machine builders, machine repairers, machine tenders and technologists.

Good Opportunities

These must complement the manufacturing and mechanical industries. People need manufactured products.

For young women the clerical field will probably continue to offer the best opportunities. The number of clerical workers more than doubled from 1910-1945. These jobs will continue strong in order to keep up with the needs of business and industrial, transportation and distribution activities. But as wages increase, young women must do more and better work. "Any girl" cannot get jobs much longer.

Advice To Job Hunters

It is impossible to have a great war without "paying the piper".
Sooner or later we are bound to witness a business depression.
Therefore, whether you be laborer, operator, craftsman, salesman, administrator or what, look for work with (a) a company whose earnings fluctuate a minimum between good times and bad times. A toilet tissue manufacturer would qualify, while a steel company would not. Or (b) work for a company which furnishes a necessity and whose business holds up during a depression. A fire insurance company would qualify, while a hotel would not. Or (c) work for a growing industry such as chemical companies. Or (d) work for a concern that can quickly mark up prices in case of inflation. Chain stores would qualify; railroads would not.

Kamikaze' Pilot Owes Scholarship To U.S. Casualty

American Family Of Dead American Gives Money To Promote Better Relations

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—A 22-year-old Japanese veteran of the "Kamikaze" corps today owed his Lafayette college scholarship to the war death of an American soldier.

The Japanese, Robert Y. Nishiyama, of Tokyo, was awarded the scholarship set up by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnstone, of Downingtown, in memory of their son who was killed in the fighting on Luzon.

The American youth, Robert S. Johnstone, had expressed the wish that in the event of his death, his $10,000 government life insurance policy be used to "promote better relations between the white and yellow races."

Lafayette Student

Young Johnstone was a student at Lafayette when he entered the army.

Dr. Ralph C. Hutchinson, Lafayette president, said although Nishiyama served in the Japanese Navy Kamikaze corps for about a year, he did not see any action against the Americans.

Nishiyama, a Christian, attended the Tokyo Mission school and the Tokyo School of Foreign Languages. After the war, Dr. Hutchinson added, Nishiyama served as an interpreter for the Fifth air force and as assistant manager of a post exchange in Tokyo.

The Japanese youth will come to the United States as soon as American authorities permit him to leave Japan, Dr. Hutchinson said. He will prepare for a teaching career, and will be the first of his nationality to attend an American college since Pearl Harbor.

Nishiyama's wife, a native of California and former Stanford university student, was caught in Japan, where she was visiting, at the outbreak of the war. She and their child will accompany him to this country.

Telephone Official Is Severely Beaten

Hunted Man Is Former Sailor With Bad Conduct Discharge Against Him

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—C. Lothrop Ritchie, 56, secretary-treasurer of the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania, was beaten unconscious today on a mid-city street.

Leonard R. Munson, 23, a boiler-maker first class stationed at the Philadelphia Navy yard, was arrested on a charge of aggravated assault and battery.

Three firemen in an engine house told police they were awakened by an alteration and ran out to find a sailor pounding Ritchie on the sidewalk.

Police reported Munson told them he and Ritchie had been arguing about whether the Marine Corps or the Navy had turned the tide in the Pacific war.

Ritchie was taken to Graduate hospital with cuts and bruises of the head, face and eyes. A native of Sewickley, he is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and joined the Bell company as counsel in 1913.

Currie's money was missing and a wallet which bore Hall's name was found near the body.

Police said robbery was the apparent motive in the crime.

They said that Currie, who was en route from Grosse Pointe to his station at Elizabeth City, N. C., had sold an automobile in Winchester and had several hundred dollars on his person at the time he was killed.

Currie's money was missing and a wallet which bore Hall's name was found near the body.

MARINE SERGEANT BACK AT QUANTICO

Michigan To Enact Laws To Affect Unions

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 3.—(INS)—The new Michigan legislature, armed with what it interpreted as a "protest" mandate against alleged labor abuses, today prepared to enact laws to sharply regulate labor unions.

Labor and management sources agreed that the first legislation curbing union activities since the Republican landslide last November will come from the current Michigan Assembly session.

Laws now in the making at Lansing may set the pattern for national legislation in the field of labor.

The tipoff of things to come was seen in a measure introduced in the opening session yesterday. The bill, presented by State Senator Arthur E. Wood, of Detroit, would require all officers of unions to file complete financial statements with the state government.

Revolutionary as the bill appears at first glance, veteran political observers viewed it as a "mild" measure and one certain to be "bolstered" with sternly-worded riders and amendments.

The Wood bill is aimed at the CIO United Auto Workers, which, paradoxically, was cradled in Michigan.

It would give the Michigan government authority to subpoena union officials and to assess fines up to $500 for failure to comply to summons.

It also would outlaw the closed shop, one of labor's dearest accomplishments, under a clause stating that no labor union or person "can require a person to pay fees or assessments as a condition of obtaining employment."

Seed Tomatoes

Hit By Blight

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—Because damage from late blight was quite serious in many fields of tomatoes being down for seed certification, production during 1946 was considerably below the usual average but was higher than in 1945, the State Department of Agriculture announces.

Total output of state certified tomato seed in 1946 was 9,545 pounds from 295.5 acres compared with 6,508 pounds from 292 acres in 1945.

USS VALLEY FORGE ON FIRST CRUISE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The U.S.S. Valley Forge, the Navy's newest aircraft carrier, was slated to leave Philadelphia today for a shakedown cruise in Caribbean waters.

The Valley Forge was originally scheduled to sail yesterday, but was delayed by adverse weather conditions.

The 27,000 ton carrier was financed by a $76,000 war bond drive conducted in the Philadelphia area during 1945. Upon its return in April, it will prepare to join the Pacific fleet.

APPEALS MARGARINE LICENSE FEE ORDER HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Deputy Attorney General Samuel Jackson today announced he has appealed a Dauphin county court decision outlawing the $500 wholesale and $100 retail oleomargarine license fees.

The appeal was filed with the state supreme court, he reported.

The State Agriculture department issued a statement emphasizing that dealers holding temporary 1947 licenses without charge, will be subject to retroactive fees when the amounts were determined.

"All provisions of the law are still in force; the amount of the wholesale and retail license fees eventually to be paid by such distributors is not known at this time," the department asserted.

"Temporary licenses may be issued subject to collection of the license fees when same are finally determined."

Search Under Way For Engineer

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Bernard Sippel, Federal Works Administration construction engineer, who has been missing since Tuesday morning, was the subject of an intensive search today.

Sippel, working in Cincinnati in connection with development of a new hotel office building, checked out of his hotel Tuesday morning and has not been seen since.

Police began checking hotels and homes after FWA officials reported Sippel was urgently needed in Washington. FWA Executive Roy W. Johnson expressed a fear that Sippel was ill or suffering from amnesia.

Sippel was described as six feet tall and weighing about 155 pounds with grey hair and a ruddy complexion.

Churches participating include Christ Methodist, Primitive Methodist, Congregational, Central Christian, Wesleyan Methodist and Hoover Heights Christian and Missionary Alliance.

FIND MURDERED GI'S IN FRANKFURT

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Reporters from Frankfurt today that bodies of two murdered American soldiers have been discovered.

The body of one victim was found in a cemetery near Frankfurt. He had apparently been beaten to death with a rock.

The second U.S. serviceman was found slain in Heidelberg. He had died of knife wounds and a skull fracture.

Neither was yet identified.

KILLED BY STREET CAR

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Police reported today that John R. Clark, 72, of Pittsburgh, apparently became confused by heavy traffic last night and was killed as he stepped in front of a street car.

The 27,000 ton carrier was originally scheduled to sail yesterday, but was delayed by adverse weather conditions.

The 27,000 ton carrier was financed by a $76,000 war bond drive conducted in the Philadelphia area during 1945. Upon its return in April, it will prepare to join the Pacific fleet.

Plan Meeting Of Service Groups, Red Cross Group

Schedule Meeting For Wednesday Evening, January 8, At 8 O'Clock In Chapter House

Home Service department of the local Red Cross Chapter has sent letters to the various service organizations of the county, announcing a meeting for Wednesday evening, January 8, at 8 o'clock, at the Chapter house.

The purpose of the meeting is to coordinate the various services for the veterans and to form a training course, patterned by what has been done in other counties. This will assure veterans the best possible service in the service organizations.

All service organizations will be represented in this project.

Those taking part are: Mrs. R. G. Caruthers, chairman of Home service; Jack Preston, Red Cross; Frank Sargent, VFW; Elizabeth Reis, Red Cross home service; Lewis Conn, director of Veterans Affairs, Lawrence county; and Mrs. Louis McConnell, home service supervisor of Red Cross.

Slips, working in Cincinnati in connection with development of a new hotel office building, checked out of his hotel Tuesday morning and has not been seen since.

Police began checking hotels and homes after FWA officials reported Sippel was urgently needed in Washington. FWA Executive Roy W. Johnson expressed a fear that Sippel was ill or suffering from amnesia.

Sippel was described as six feet tall and weighing about 155 pounds with grey hair and a ruddy complexion.

Dr. Downer was a physician with the Red Cross in World War I and served in Serbia during the typhus epidemic. He was one of nine doctors out of 300 that returned to the United States. En route to the U.S. war was declared and he returned as head of the Russian Relief Mission with headquarters in the Russian royal palace, where he treated the young czar throughout the war.

Serving on the staff of St. Elizabeth hospital from 1918 to 1926, he has been retired since that time, residing in Florida.

Assail Delay In Sugar Allotments

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Bakers and other commercial users of sugar in the Pittsburgh area today were complaining bitterly over OPA delays in making allotments for the first quarter of 1947.

Wholesalers said there was plenty of sugar in warehouses to fill the needs of commercial users, but that it cannot be delivered until the proper credentials are produced.

Bakers especially have been hard hit by rationing, and many started the new year without their allotments. One Charleroi baker, whose shop has been closed two weeks, said he made application for his first quarter allotment December 3, expected his allotment by Christmas, but instead received another application blank December 31 to apply all over again.

Landon Favors Britain, Canada Meet With U.S.

Former Governor Says Nations Should Meet Jointly On Tripartite Affairs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas favored a proposed joint committee of congress and the British and Canadian parliaments to advise on tripartite affairs.

The proposal was advanced by the periodical "Freedom and Union." A forum also brought the endorsement of Reps. Vorys of Ohio and Mundt of S. Dakota, both Republicans.

Others favoring the proposal on the forum included Lt. Col. E. M. King, British labor member of parliament, and Sen. T. D. Boucneard of Canada.

Few dissenting voices were raised. The late Hugh Wilson, former U. S. ambassador to Germany, said such affairs should be left to diplomats. Sid Norman Angel favored the move but wanted delayed action. W. T. Holiday, president of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, and Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins college, said the plan would be viewed as anti-Russian.

Received Late

Landon's remarks were received too late for publication with others in the forum. They were made public by Clarence Streit, editor of the publication.

The 1936 GOP presidential nominee expressed belief that the new congress should invite the British and Canadian parliaments to send bipartisan delegations to meet with its own representatives in a consultative committee on their tripartite affairs. He said:

"More than a year ago, before the Republicans won control of congress, I publicly expressed the view that these three atomic associations should form such a committee on atomic policy."

"Since then they have developed other common problems, and I agree the committee's scope should extend, as in this proposal, to include them."

SESSION OPENING SIGNAL FOR BATTLE ON BILBO SEATING

The full senate and spectators who crowded the galleries joined in the opening Lord's prayer.

The credentials rule then was read.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., was first to get the floor. He moved that the re-elected Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., be sworn.

Ferguson said this was to honor the Michigan veteran the "first sworn in at this session."

Overton objected and confusion followed.

The proposal that Vandenberg be sworn first was a departure from the usual custom by which senators are sworn in four at a time, in alphabetical order.

Sen. Barkley, minority leader, pointed out that the senate could adopt any order of oath taking it decided upon and said Ferguson's motion was in order.

Ferguson had objected to swearing in senators in groups of four. He said he thought each man should be sworn by motion and withdrew his Vandenberg motion.

The senate then returned to the alphabetical order plan and the name of Sen. Baldwin (R) Conn., was called.

His Democratic colleague, Sen. McMahon, led Baldwin down the aisle at 12:15 p.m.

Biffle administered the oath.

Would Bar Bilbo

At this point Sen. Taylor (D) Idaho, got recognition and introduced a resolution opposing the seating of Bilbo beating Republicans to the draw.

Taylor's resolution would bar Bilbo from his senate seat pending a full hearing and report from the rules committee.

Taylor's resolution asked that Bilbo's credentials be submitted to the rules committee for a hearing and report "at an early date."

Taylor gained recognition from Biffle, as Sen. Ferguson was standing ready to offer the Republican stand-aside proposal.

Ferguson raised the immediate question on whether Taylor's resolution was in order. Biffle held that it was and pointed out that it was subject to amendment.

Ferguson then tried to offer the Republican proposal which would defer seating Bilbo until the senate had decided on charges against him—not before Monday.

Taylor, however, held the floor and refused to yield for introduction of the Republican plan as a substitute.

Bilbo Walks Around

Bilbo, wearing a brown suit and bright red and white tie, walked around the Senate chamber as Taylor spoke.

Sen. Morse (R) Ore., raised a point of order, because of the crowd on the Senate floor.

He said the Senate had been "turned into an auditorium" and asked that sergeant-at-arms clear the chamber.

Biffle sustained Morse and directed those not entitled to the floor to leave.

Sen. Langer (R) N. D., rose to state that "Mrs. Langer campaigned all over North Dakota with me" and "has a right to be here today to see me sworn in."

Laughter flooded the chamber and Taylor resumed his speech.

Taylor struck at Bilbo's assertion that in his campaign plies against allowing Negroes to vote he always included the phrase, "within the law," and said newspapers failed to note it. Taylor asserted:

"I am inclined to give great weight to reports by newsmen on Bilbo's statements in the Mississippi primary."

DEVOTION TO DUTY

SHEFFIELD, England.—Two dogs which for five days steadfastly guarded four sheep on a narrow ledge below the top of a cliff were rescued recently along with their charges.

The sheep fell off the cliff and landed on a ledge many feet below. Taught to stay always with their flock, the two dogs jumped after them.

After five days of continued efforts, rescuers reached the animals with ropes and hauled them up to safety.

New Castle High Cagers Open Section Card With Ambridge

Valley Quintet
To Test Locals
In Hoop Opener

Fans To Pack Gym To See
"Whiz Kids" In Action Against Powerful
"Bridgers"

DOUGLASS ALTERS LINEUP FOR GAME

With only a five-point loss to Homestead last season, the powerful Ambridge high cagers will come to the city tonight to oppose New Castle in the Section III lid-lifter for both squads.

The Valley quint, under the guiding hand of Tom Drake, assistant to "Moe" Rubenstein last season, dumped Freedom Wednesday night, 41-22 for their eighth win in nine starts and will shoot the works at the Red and Black to begin their quest of section laurels with a bang. Many experts say the "Bridgers" are the team to beat this campaign, with the entire starting array battle-tested and long on height.

Douglas Gloomy
Coach Bill Douglas looked in as the Valleyites swept past Freedom and without resorting to the crying towel, pronounced the "Bridgers" one of the best schoolboy outfits he has seen.

Without attempting to create an alibi, said the lean New Castle mentor, "I think Ambridge has everything necessary to become a great team this season. If Ray Stepanick Coach Drake has a superior forward, a great shot, ball-handler and tough defensive man, he is a great deal similar to our own Don Black, only taller."

Changes Lineup
Douglas stated that he would make two changes for the game. Don Spears replacing Jimmy Jimmecane at forward and Al Marcotulli taking over Tony Cialella's guarding post. Black will remain at forward. "Chuck" Rea will hold the pivot duties and Don Watters will pair with Marcotulli at the guards. The Red and Black tutor said he is trying to get as much height as possible into the lineup without sacrificing speed.

"We do have speed, and great combative spirit," continued Douglas, "but I see us as a good first half team. Against larger, taller lads we may fold as the game progresses."

Douglas' concern over his charges' ability to boss the boards is certainly an important point but the "Kids" have shown so much fight this season that they have continually out-jumped taller opponents to snatch rebounds and control the ball.

Record Crowd Expected
Over 1,000 fans are expected to throng the Washington high gym to see the Hurricane open its stormy card, the first time the locals have shown before the home crowd since the Westinghouse game. Four straight away games took them to Butler, Arnold, Johnstown and Altoona, and the "Kids" won three of these battles on foreign courts.

The squad is keyed up for the invasion and anxious to present their coach with his initial victory in the tough Section III loop.

Fast Encounter Expected Saturday Evening In Legion League; Bessemer At Wampum

Perry S. Gaston Post's fast basketball team will go to Ellwood City Saturday evening where they will meet the strong J. Wilbur Randolph Post team in an American Legion league game.

Wampum entertains Bessemer tomorrow night and a battle royal is expected in this game also.

Manager Tommy McCormick stated that the team will meet at the Legion Home at 6:45 o'clock. A large crowd of roasters is expected to accompany the local squad to the Tube City.

Golfing Stars In Los Angeles Open

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Four ranking professional golfers were rated as co-favorites to walk off with most of the cash in the $10,000 Los Angeles Open which started rolling today at the Riviera Country club.

Three of the favorites are champions of one big event or another, and the fourth pet of the gallery is Detroit's Chick Harber, making a links comeback after recovering from war injuries.

The gallery, which will hit 10,000 fans during the 72-hole four-day marathon, will be concentrating on National Open champion Lloyd Mangrum, British Open champ Sam Snead and the current National P. G. A. boss, Ben Hogan.

Lions Ready For Youngstown Five

New Castle Lions club basketball team is ready for the invasion of Youngstown Saturday where they will play the strong Sheet and Tube team. It was announced today by Manager Dick Davis, the game being scheduled for the Youngstown "Y" floor at 8 o'clock. The plateaus are to meet at The Castleton hotel at 6:15 o'clock Saturday.

Coach Davis also announced that tickets for the Pittsburgh Steelers and Lions game at Franklin High Floor January 18 are going on sale Saturday.

Fox Hunters To Meet At Volant

Second fox hunt of the season will be staged Saturday in Volant district, according to T. E. Shaffer, president of the Coon and Fox Hunters association. Last Saturday two foxes were shot near Nassau. The hunters with shotguns, but no rifles, are scheduled to meet at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow at the junction of the Volant, East Brook and Leesburg highways, at Volant.

HOUSE LEAGUE GAMES

The New Castle Ramblers defeated the Red Skins 35 to 28 last night in a House league game at the "Y" in the first game on the double bill and in the second game the Milton A. C. thumped the Wings 40 to 31.

Westminster Loses In Extra-Period 64 To 62 To Harvard At Gardens

Nearly 7,000 Fans, Largest Basketball Crowd In Pittsburgh's History Sees Battle

George Hauptfuehrer Of Harvard, Bill McHinney Of Westminster High Scorers

(By News Staff Writer)

DUQUESNE GARDENS, PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—Basketball history was made in this steel center of America last night as nearly 7,000 rabid fans jammed the Gardens here, for the big doubleheader attraction, putting this town definitely back in the "big time" as far as the popular dribble and shoot pastime is concerned, and were rewarded with two thrilling floor exhibitions, as Harvard edged Westminster college in the first game 64 to 62 in an overtime, and Duquesne bounded Holy Cross 55 to 45 in the nightcap.

In the nightcap the Duquesne university under Chick Davies once more bested Holy Cross 55 to 45 for their eighth straight win. The Titans go to St. Vincent's at Latrobe Saturday for a district battle. Duquesne plays at the "Cowboys" tonight.

Coach Washabaugh is handicapped by the lack of tall players. Harvard had three men 6 feet 3 and better, and controlled the ball off the backboard more often than did Washabaugh's "little fellows" this being the difference. Westminster had 23 field goals, and so did Harvard, the Bill Barclay bouncers edging the Westminsters at the foul line 18 out of 28, to 16 out of 26.

Pete Muscarino, 148, of New York was tk'd by Otis Graham, 150, of Philadelphia in the second frame of a carded six-round semi-windup.

However, there is a question as to whether they will be able to get Zale or Graziano into the ring with him and, if not, then you've got it—"be uncrowned middleweight champion."

Robinson against either Zale, the current champion, or Graziano would be a thrilling and probably a rough-house battle. It may be one of Promoter Mike Jacobs' outdoor attractions next summer. His representatives, while he is laid up in the hospital, confess that Robinson is too much of a drawing card to remain idle or miss the big outdoor dates.

A logical match would be him and one of the better middleweights—not Lamotta, but Zale or Graziano. Robinson can whip Lamotta blindfolded.

However, there is a question as to whether they will be able to get Zale or Graziano into the ring with him and, if not, then you

White Questions Boundary Line

Declares All Of North Mercer Street North Of Euclid Is In Township

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

It has always been assumed that the dividing line between the City of New Castle and Neshannock township was the center of North Mercer street, north of a point between Sheridan and Euclid avenues and extending north to Englewood avenue.

The city and township have joined in maintaining the street, and at times there has been some talk of paving the street from Sheridan north, the cost to be split equally.

City Solicitor Robert M. White today said that after a thorough investigation of the lines coming down from the donation land grants convinces him that no part of North Mercer street north of the point between Sheridan and Euclid is in the city, that the entire street lies within Neshannock township.

Mr. White explains his position by showing that when the street was laid out it was supposed to follow the line of the donation lands. Instead, the men who laid the street out were five feet west of the donation lands and at Englewood avenue the street is 29 feet west of the line. It now appears that the city has been paying for maintaining something it didn't own.
